

The computed Function Alternate Syntax

- The computed function accepts an object with a get and set method.
- In the get method, we declare the logic for determining the current (reactive) value.
- In the set method, we declare the logic for setting the next value.

Input Modifiers

- The lazy input modifier updates the data when the user stops typing or clicks out of the input. We used this to reduce the number of actions the app dispatches to the store.
- The trim input modifier removes whitespace from both ends of the text input.
